Why Daylight?

We share a passion for developing innovative products to democratize the solar energy market and empower everyone to contribute to the fight against climate change - with green solar energy.

We are a team of young and motivated professionals and maintain an open, positive and fair working environment.

About this role

We are looking for a highly motivated and experienced Product Manager to join our team and support us in the development and optimization of our products. As the interface between marketing, sales, and technical development, you will be responsible for ensuring the success of our products by focusing on packaging, user manuals, and app development.

YOUR TASKS

- Oversee the design, development and implementation of packaging, user manuals, and app
- Serve as a key interface between marketing, sales and technical development teams
- Ensure products meet market demands and customer needs
- Analyze and report on product performance and make recommendations for improvement
- Collaborate with cross-functional teams to support sales and marketing efforts
- Market research for further business potentials in energy market

YOUR PROFILE

- Bachelor's degree in Marketing, Business Administration, Engineering, or related field
- Experience in product management, preferably in a technology or energy-related field
- Strong communication and collaboration skills
- Ability to think strategically and creatively
- Knowledge of design and technical software, such as Adobe Creative Suite, Sketch, and InVision, is a plus.

YOUR BENEFITS

- Join our passionate and dynamic team and contribute your ideas to help shape our future.
- Experience a fast-paced work environment where creativity and innovation are highly valued.
- Enjoy the flexibility of remote work and access to a shared co-working space, along with generous vacation time to recharge and refuel.
- We also offer attractive employment contracts with employee participation to support our Daylight vision.
